WALNUT GROVE, Sacramento County, Cal. Feb. 25. — No man could describe this state or all the things in it. There is too much for even a California mind to carry. Rabelais himself with all his vocabulary could not do it justice.

Soon the days of real flying will be here. A trip from Boston to San Francisco will be as simple as a trip by electric car to the suburbs. To live in the United States and not know California will be to admit rank provincialism.

You leave San Francisco taking the ferry to Oakland, cross San Francisco bay, a miniature Mediterranean, into the valley at the bottom of the bay. The waters of the Pacific pour through the Golden gate as they pour through Gibraltar straits, those Pillars of Hercules into the Mediterranean. Around this Mediterranean of the west there is growing up a new race, a new civilization, a new star for the human race that will make the old seem as small as the Mediterranean compared with the Pacific ocean.

In one corner of this great bay you could drop and lose New York's harbor. On either side of the bay is a great city. All about, north, south and east are the richest and most beautiful lands on earth and to the west the Pacific, western frontier of the white race.

EVERYBODY has said you must see the Sacramento valley. Good westerners tell you other marvelous valleys that you must see, valleys in Colorado, in Arizona and California, the Imperial valley, the Napa valley, Sonoma, San Fernando, Santa Clara, many others, not forgetting the great San Joaquin valley, with the world champion cattle and dairy regions and other thousand million barrels of oil underneath the soil.

You run along perfect roads everywhere, of course, in California. They don't talk roads, they build them. You leave Oakland, a great city facing the Orient and a great future, plunge in a country of most intense development.

First comes Solano county, and you think you are in some English landscape multiplied in size by about 1,000, the sky 10 times as high as any sky in Eden, and farms 10 times as big.

Beautiful high green hills, covered with sheep and lambs. Thousands of them tottering behind their mothers, eat fresh green grass, enjoying the warm sunshine on this February day.

Through Fairfield and Suisun past one of the magnificent high schools that are the glory of this nation you enter the Sacramento valley and see what you came to see.

If the Egyptians had seen this place the pyramids would be here, the Sphinx and Tutankhamen's tomb. This land has every thing that Egypt and the Nile valley ever had plus much.

POLICE BAFFLED

Coroner's Inquest Fails to Uncover Clew to Murderer.

TROY, O., Feb. 25.—Thoroughly aroused by the brutal and mysterious murder of one of its most popular woman residents, and convinced that there is no "perfect" crime, citizens of Troy and Miami county today started a campaign to raise money for a reward for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons who killed Mrs. Frances Drake Nesbitt in the bathroom of her home here last Friday.

Authorities Silent.

See also, "My Another Husband" was launched by Prosecuting Attorney L. E. Harvey and Joseph Wilcox, Dayton detective.

Maintaining an attitude of silence as to what clew they hoped to uncover these officials were today revisiting the scene of the crime and conducting a thorough search of the premises.

"There is no perfect crime," Prosecutor Harvey said before leaving for the Nesbitt home, "and there is surely a clew in this case. We mean to find it."

If conditions warrant, a special session of the grand jury will be held to investigate the tragedy, Harvey said.

Coroner G. J. Hance ended his inquest Wednesday night after examining 22 witnesses. Following the inquest, Prosecutor Harvey stated that

Carl Turk Winner In Suit Over $300; Dry Law Case Echo

A verdict in favor of the defendant was rendered by a jury of six persons in municipal court today in the action between Verne Boston against Carl Turk, to recover $300 alleged to have been taken from Boston, following his arrest on a black-mail charge on April 24, 1924.

Judge Hanley, after two of the witnesses had been examined, instructed the jury to return the verdict.

The case had its beginning when Boston was arrested about two years ago, charged with the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. He told Mayor Brown, by whom he was tried, that he had purchased the liquor from Turk. Turk was then arrested, Boston being the witness against him.

Turk asserts that Boston promised to leave town upon payment of $300. Turk marked the money and after he had paid it over to him, Boston was arrested by Constable T. C. Smith. The money was afterward turned back to Turk upon court order.

All of these things happen every day. But there is a remedy for every blemish you may get on your clothing and household linens.

These are all listed in a 36-page booklet, with illustrations, which this Bureau has for free distribution. Fill out the attached coupon and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH BELL, ONCE OWNED BY 'UNCLE JACK' BURGESS, TOLLED EVENTS OF CIVIL WAR

Hectic days marking the departure of young men for service in the Union Army, important battles during the Civil war, Lee's surrender at Appomattox, return of the battle-scarred veterans and finally the assassination of Abraham Lincoln in Ford's theatre, Washington—all this and more could be told by the bell in the belfry of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church, if it could talk.

Throughout the Rebellion, the bell was suspended from a flat boat, moored along the river front near the present Broadway wharf. When the first contingent of soldiers entraught, the bell was rung. Again it tolled when other volunteers answered Lincoln's call for 300,000 men.

The battle of Gettysburg and other Union victories were celebrated in East Liverpool by those who stayed at home and in such celebration the bell played its part. At the close of the war when the soldiers came back to loved ones, the bell welcomed them. And when news reached East Liverpool that "Honest Abe" was dead, victim of an assassin, the bell tolled as a tribute to his memory.

Purchased for $275

The bell was brought here by J. H. "Uncle Jack" Burgess, four times mayor and justice of the peace for many years and his brother Benjamin Burgess, who operated a trading boat between East Liverpool and New Orleans.

With their boat, "Wheeling Glass Trader No. 18," the two Burgess brothers, in charge of a cargo of pottery and glassware and other merchandise, started down the Ohio in the fall of 1860. Stops were made at various towns where part of the cargo was sold to merchants. At that time war between the North and the South was threatened. In the fall the brothers reached a small town where the Arkansas river empties into the Mississippi river. Here they met another trader, H. E. Gilmore, a native of Cincinnati, whose boat was loaded with machinery, enroute to the cotton plantations of the South.

People of the south, believing war was inevitable, had placed a boycott upon northern-made goods. Morris, realizing that he would be unable to dispose of his cargo at a profit, bartered with the two Burgess brothers for a bell, purchased at Cincinnati for a southern plantation. He asked $350, but the elder Burgess offered $250, which he refused. Just as Morris was about to "push off" for his trip down the river, the elder Burgess raised his offer to $275, which was accepted. Fifty barrels of corn whisky at nine and one-half cents a gallon was also purchased from Morris.

Sold Boat for $75

The Burgess boys professed to be residents of Wheeling, then in Virginia, a slave state. For that reason, they received fair treatment, when they reached Baton Rouge, La., in the winter. The south was then preparing for war and it was while the Burgess brothers were there that a regiment of the Louisiana Tigers, sending the federal soldiers in charge of the place back north.

A few weeks later the traders were in the outskirts of New Orleans. "Uncle Jack," then a lad of about 16, warned of the war danger, but his elder brother scoffed at the idea. The younger boy, anxious to return before hostilities started, decided to make the homeward trip. He finally prevailed upon his brother to sell their boat and return to East Liverpool.

After selling the craft for $75, they boarded the "Prima Donna," a river steamer, returning to East Liverpool, and bringing with them the bell, for which there was no market in the South. The two brothers had just reached their home when the attack was made upon Fort Sumter and the North and the South were at war.

Later "Uncle Jack" Burgess enlisted in the Third Pennsylvania Artillery.

Given in Payment of Loan.

The bell was placed in position on a flat boat at the Broadway wharf where it remained throughout the war.

Here it saw service with every event of importance during the four-year conflict.

The bell later the property of Mrs. Jane Burgess, mother of "Uncle Jack." The mother had loaned Benjamin $450 to purchase the "Wheeling Glass Trader" and when the brothers were forced to sell the boat at a sacrifice in New Orleans, the trip proving disastrous from a financial standpoint. After the war the elder brother turned the bell over to his mother as part payment for the loan.

Mrs. Burgess was a member of the Episcopal church. When the first church was erected in West Fourth street, on the site of the present edifice, the bell was stored in the Burgess home. She sold the church the bell for $25, which was only a fraction of its value.

When the first St. Stephen's church was destroyed by fire the bell fell about 45 feet, but was not badly damaged.

Upon erection of the present building, it was again placed in service.

Lee was the first to attempt to board the freight. As he did so he fell under the wheels and was dragged between the car and the iron railing which separates the east and westbound tracks.

Lee

made no effort to board the train.

NEW TAX CUT BILL AWAITS SIGNATURE OF NATION'S CHIEF

Approval of Measure Will be Mere Formality.

EVERYBODY HAPPY

"Little Fellow" and Millionaire Find Comfort.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The $2,360,000 revenue bill carrying tax reductions of more than $387,000,000 only awaited the signature of President Coolidge today before becoming a law.

As the president has already announced his approval of the measure, the signing was expected to be a mere formality. The treasury department, anticipating its passage, was prepared today with ample supplies of new forms for the flood of March 15 returns.

Every class of taxpayer found comfort today in the legislation. The "little fellow" was jubilant over decreased normal rates and increased exemptions to $1,500 for single and $2,500 for married persons, which will cut $2,850,000 from the tax rolls. Total savings on incomes less than $10,000 will be approximately $52,200,000.

At the other end of the economic scale, millionaires similarly could view the future with rosy-tinted glasses as surtaxes were cut from a maximum of 20 to 20 percent at $100,000 and more. This slash will cost the treasury $119,000,000 from the tax rolls. Total savings on incomes less than $10,000 will be approximately $52,200,000.

Reductions in Revenue.

Revenue from income taxes will be approximately $1,720,000,000, a cut of $160,000,000.

Among the other larger revenue items, together with approximate reductions, are:

Campaign Against Poolroom Loafers Launched By Police

Charges Husband Loafs at Poolroom, Sues for Divorce

Captain Conley, Acting Upon Complaints, Warns Frequenters of Sixth Street Place as Mayor Acts.

A campaign against loafing in and around pool rooms was launched to day by the police.

Acting upon complaints received from business men, Captain of Police Conley, this morning, visited an East Sixth street pool room and warned a dozen or more loafers.

"Police have been given orders to stop loafing about pool rooms," Mayor Ralph C. Benedict declared. "We intend to raid these places, arresting flask-toters, who will be charged with possession, as well as men who are believed to have been drinking, charging them with intoxication.

"I have warned loafers what they may expect if continue to hang around pool rooms without any apparent means of livelihood," said Captain Conley. "Arrests will be made if the warning is not heeded."

Fifteen pool room owners will confer with Mayor Benedict and Service Safety Director J. W. Moore at the city hall at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Pool room operators are to be told that the "lid" is on gambling and other games of chance, and they must obey the law or their licenses will be suspended.

Leases Lunch Room Place.

Alex. Alexander, Diamond confector, has leased a section of the Meredith building in the Diamond to Nick Jameson, for a period of three years and three months, for a monthly rental of $165. The space is to be used for lunch room purposes, according to the terms of the lease which was recorded at the office of the county recorder at Lisbon.

ACHES AND PAINS
ARE SOON FIXED UP

Simple, easy treatment
brings quick relief

Quick, sure relief from pain is what men want when they get lamed up from over-exercise or exposure, or when they get a sprain or bruise.

A soldier in the Sixth Pennsylvania Infantry writes from camp:—"Sloan's is a great thing for us boys in the army. After a stiff hike or drill your muscles are bound to ache, but they are soon fixed up with Sloan's. It's great stuff for muscle-bound legs, lame backs, stiff necks, sprains or bruises."

The reason that Sloan's Liniment gives such remarkable relief is that it gets right at the cause of the pain. It stimulates the circulation throughout the place where the pain is, and clears out congestion.

Right away you feel relief. Stiff muscles limber up, the aching stops, and soon you are fit as ever. No need to rub. Sloan's does the whole job. Just put it on! Get a bottle today. All druggists—35 cents.

many of them from disaster, according to reports received by the department. At the same time it has acted as a bar to the further activities of "credit spongers" who were able to carry insurance without paying any premiums at all, by the simple method of contracting for a policy on credit and when it was canceled for non-payment of premium to obtain another agency on a similarly liberal credit terms.

Captain W. E. White, chief of the insurance department, Auditor John C. Bond being ex-officio commissioner of insurance, says that some agents have been so pleased and relieved by the ruling that they declare it alone justifies the existence of a state insurance department and official supervision of the business.

Holding Chicken Supper.

Chicken supper will be held today under the auspices of the Loyal Daughters' class of the First Christian church in the third floor of the Aaron building, Fifth street.

SORE THROAT
One swallow of Thoxine will stop the most painful sore throat in 15 minutes or money back. Better than gargles, it works from within and eliminates the cause, modern theory. ## PLANT WORKERS TO STAGE DANCE

Newell plants of the Homer Laughlin China company will be represented in large numbers at the dance to be held tomorrow night in the Eagles Hall, East Liverpool.

The dance was arranged by committees representing the shops in Newell and East End working in conjunction with the Industrial Welfare department, of which Joseph Dickey is the head.

Music for the occasion will be provided by the Sturgis-Miller orchestra.

DIRT HIGHWAYS IN POOR SHAPE

Members of the state road commission have issued a statement in which it is declared that a majority of the dirt highways of the state are impassable at this time owing to the severe weather of the past month.

Many of the interior sections are practically isolated and the board sees little hope for improved conditions until advent of good weather. Reports on improved roads show most of them in good condition.

The Italian Debt Again

The public had almost forgotten about the Italian debt settlement, assuming that that little detail of international business was taken care of and out of the way. Now it bobs up again. The senate has not yet disposed of the matter.

There is an unexpected volume of opposition to the settlement made by the debt commission and approved by the president. It appears in both parties. Most of it is based on a feeling that Italy was let off too easily. Some of it comes from a dislike of Mussolini.

Both classes of critics can make a good argument. Americans generally do not approve of Mussolini and his autocratic methods, and would like to get a good deal more from Italy in payment of the American debt. But most Americans seem to feel that the amount agreed upon is probably as much as Italy can or will pay, and that we're lucky to get that much. If the present settlement is overthrown now, we may not get anything at all.

An Air-Wise Nation

"Those with even a small amount of vision," remarks the New Orleans Times-Picayune, "must recognize that within a short time military aviation will bear no greater ratio to civil flight than our war equipments on land and sea today bear to our merchant shipping and industrial activities."

It is to that end that the Guggenheim schools of aeronautics are working. Mr. Guggenheim has said that he wants "to make the American public air-wise."

For the same purpose the British government is encouraging the development of aviation clubs in England. A fifth such club has just been organized. The government places light, easily operated airplanes at the disposal of the clubs, the enthusiastic members of which agree to master the flying art. It is expected that before long the flying clubs will be self-sustaining and as popular as boat clubs or golf clubs.

Military aviation developed so suddenly and so marvelously during the war that it has been difficult for the public to comprehend its tremendous peace time possibilities for commerce and pleasure. The emphasis is now being placed on these phases and the airplane is gradually coming into full and satisfactory use.

Old Debts and New Loans

American loans and investments abroad are rolling up right along, surpassing both principal payments and interest payments from our foreign debtors. There is possibly half a billion a year due our investors in dividends and interest, but most of it remains abroad, being reinvested there, along with the new loans.

How long can this last? What it amounts to is that we are still lending Europe money to pay her old debts, and lending it faster than we are getting it back. Sooner or later American capitalists will probably get tired of this one-sided business, and turn their money into domestic investment. Then Europe will owe us, right along, more than she is getting from us in new cash.

One of two things must happen then. Either the debtors will default in payments, or the debtor countries will send us a steady surplus of goods in lieu of money.

The latter would mean an excess of imports over exports for the United States, usually interpreted as "unfavorable trade balance."

It might depress American industry, though that is by no means certain. Those who think it would do so have a good argument for discouraging new loans to old debtors, and urging the use of American money for the development of American resources.

No Parole For Repeaters

A Minneapolis professor of sociology gives statistics to show that 62 per cent of the inmates of United States penal institutions have served parts of one or more previous sentences. He regards this as proof that these criminals are incapable of reform, and advocates locking them up for life.

Perhaps it is not so much that all of them are incapable of reform as that most of them are willing to take advantage of the easy pardon and parole systems that prevail throughout the country. If every "repeater," appearing for a second offense, were automatically barred from the benefits of pardon or parole and made to serve the full term of his sentence, the great pastime of getting into mischief while out on parole might become less popular.

"We ought to have Mussolini for president of the United States," says a Fascistic citizen. Really, it would be worth while, just to see what the senate would do to him.

Women will be women. Members of the Women's party insist on women's immemorial right to work all day and all night if they want to, in the factory or office just as they've always been free to do at home.

Anyway, there's this consolation about rubber—the financial reports show that our tire manufacturers haven't lost any money through British monopoly.

Who says the Turks are not civilized like other nations, when they base their diplomacy on oil?

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Lakes-Ocean Traffic economics

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.

The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway is an essential to the people of the United States and Canada as are the Straits of Gibraltar to Southern Europe, the Dardanelles and Bosphorus to the people of Russia and the Balkans, or the Baltic navigation to northern Europe. No logical plan for our future transportation needs can fail to recognize its basic position, as the project is of outstanding international and national interest rather than sectional in its character.

Probable transportation savings on grain alone plus the enhancement of farm prices will each year equal or exceed that share of the cost of the St. Lawrence canalization which would be properly chargeable to navigation under the original project submitted to Congress by the International Joint Commission.

Specifically, the items of this financial benefit of the proposed waterway are $44,000,000 annual savings in transportation costs on grain moving to the eastern seaboard, and $196,000,000 in annual farm price enhancement due to the influence of cheaper transportation. Traffic interested in the project amounts to 30,000,000 tons annually.

Such are some of the conclusions arrived at in a survey of transportation economics of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Ship Canal by Alfred H. Ritter, transportation and port specialist. Mr. Ritter's detailed report has just been submitted to Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, who is the chairman of the St. Lawrence Commission of the United States.

It is expected to exercise a potent influence in the decision of the Commission as to its recommendation to Congress relative to the lakes-ocean waterway, and it is sponsored and published by the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association, in which body 21 States are united by authority of their respective legislatures to work for an adequate transportation outlet from the Middle West to the Atlantic.

Qualifies As An Authority

That Mr. Ritter qualifies as an authority on the subject is shown by his record. In 1920 he prepared, in collaboration with Dr. R. S. MacElwee, a report which was submitted to the International Joint Commission and became part of the favorable report of that body in relation to the projected improvement. Since that time, in accordance with instructions of Congress, an extensive investigation of American ports has been made by the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors and the War Department, in cooperation with the United States Shipping Board, the results of which are appearing in some twenty-five volumes known as the Port Series. Mr. Ritter has had immediate charge of the preparation of this series.

More recently he has been in charge of a study of the commerce and transportation facilities on the Great Lakes undertaken by the War Department and the Shipping Board to supplement the Port Series. The present report is limited mainly to the utilization of the proposed waterway by ocean vessels, the traffic available for movement, and the savings which will be made possible as a result of moving the sea base back to the shores of the Great Lakes. In the work incident to preparing it Mr. Ritter states that he has visited nearly all of the ports of the United States involved, and has studied in detail the facilities available for traffic, the amount, nature, origin, and destination of the business moving through our ports, and the suitability of the facilities and shipping services for serving adequately the local and interior hinterlands.

Unusual opportunities were afforded him, also, by Canadian governmental, railway, and commercial agencies to gather transportation and statistical data.

The report shows the number of tons of various commodities carried by vessels of various draft in our foreign and domestic commerce, the operating costs of these vessels, and the additional expense required to operate to Lake ports as compared with Atlantic ports. Also statistics are presented as to the traffic moving through the Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific ports to points on and adjacent to the Great Lakes, and existing ocean and rail rates are compared with feasible rates direct to Lake ports via the St. Lawrence Waterway.

Thoroughly Practicable

Mr. Ritter says that the proposed waterway will be thoroughly practicable for ocean vessels, and that the success of the route from the Atlantic to the lakes would not depend upon its being used by the greatest express passenger liners, or by large combination passenger and freight liners. The amount of restricted navigation will be insufficient, in his judgment, either to interfere with the use of the waterway, or to have any important effect upon rates, but he recommends that the depth of the canal be made 30 feet instead of 25 feet, as provided in the plans under consideration by the Joint Commission of Canada and the United States, and by the commissions of each country.

It is pointed out that of 4087 commercial vessels carrying cargo through the Panama Canal in a year, only 294 had drafts of 30 feet or more, while there were no commercial vessels that exceeded 624 feet in length, nor 74 feet in width, and only 16 had lengths in excess of 575 feet.

The locks in the Welland and St. Lawrence canals will have an available length of 820 feet, a width of 80 feet, and a depth of 30 feet over the sills. It is in the reaches that the increase in depth from 25 to 30 feet will be made if the expert's advice is followed.

The territory tributary to the Great Lakes-Atlantic waterway for commerce with the United Kingdom and Atlantic Europe is found to include all of sixteen States and parts of eight others, with an aggregate population of 45,000,000, while the territory tributary for commerce with Mediterranean ports is but slightly less restricted and the population is 43,000,000. The territory tributary for commerce with South America and Africa has a population of 33,000,000; that for commerce with the Orient and Australasia, 32,900,000, and that for commerce with the West Indies and Central America, 35,000,000.

As an example of the saving to the people of the interior on imports the item of coffee is cited. The lakes-ocean route will result in savings per ton over the present routing via New York of $7.00 to Cleveland, $7.80 to Toledo, $9.60 to Chicago, $7.80 to Detroit, and $16.50 to Duluth.

Then comes the waterway product that will use the waterway in which the possible traffic will amount to 10,000,000 tons a year. Mr. Ritter says that the result should be an improvement in farm prices on grain of as much as 6 cents a bushel as far south as Wichita, Kansas, and as far west as Teton, Montana, while in the territory north of Kansas City and east of Frazer, Montana, should be benefited by amounts ranging from 7.2 to 12.1 cents.

The expert concludes his report with the statement that the St. Lawrence Ship Canal is not a rival to any inland waterway, constructed or proposed, but is an extension of existing routes and will in effect establish a new and fourth seacoast.

NEW YORK
DAYBYDAY
By O. O. MCINTYRE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 24.—The world is asking of Florida, "When will the boom burst?" and making ready to plug its ear for the crash. My own idea is the top wave of land values has been reached and that there will be natural deflation.

But that pigeons will be roosting in many of the fine structures now under way in a few years is a silly conclusion. Old fashioned American elbow grease has reclaimed the jungle swamps and will doubtless preserve them. California made its desert wastes bloom and nothing happened. Panics does not necessarily follow prosperity.

There is no gainsaying Florida is a topsy-turvy land. The frenzied hullabaloo has resulted in mistakes of the hand and not of the heart. Sane and honest men are at the helm to keep it off financial rocks. It is already trimming its sails. The slack is being pulled in.

In fact the boom—if it could be called that—has burst. The mad speculation epitomized by what were known as the "binder boys" has subsided. They came here from all corners of the world, lived in affluence awhile, and many of them rode the rods out of various boom centers.

Invariably I have found that people who have lived in Florida for several years are wedded to the state. They will determine its future—and not the floaters. From now on I believe that growth will be healthy and normal and seasoned with sanity. Thus endeth a dumbbell's sermon on economics.

Homer and Alvin are trained servants attached to Will Hogg's New York apartment and imported in the Florida hiberna. Weber is a cook who resembles one of those sad grand opera tenors always looking for work around the New York agencies.

Homer is an artist of sorts but a fall off a ladder while sign painting changed his career. Alvin is part Cherokee and has the high cheekbones of the vanishing American. I mention them because I see them starting off in a car for a half boil. I believe a highly trained servant who has an appreciative employer gets more enjoyment and comfort out of life than almost any other class of skilled workers.

Alvin, for instance, has been able to save. He bought a little farm, traded it for some Long Island real estate, and lately sold it for around $30,000. Weber owns a rooming house in New York which makes him a nice yearly profit. Homer is saving to buy a home, and has several nice investments. With practically no living expenses, the servant is able to save and keep on the lookout for opportunities on the side.

The expert concludes his report with the statement that the St. Lawrence Ship Canal is not a rival to any inland waterway, constructed or proposed, but is an extension of existing routes and will in effect establish a new and fourth seacoast.

I have been told every servant in the household of Otto Kahn, a New York banker, is worth more than $100,000. They were able to save and invest judiciously and profitably. I doubt if every employee in any other single enterprise can give such good accounting. After all, the servant does not have to yield greater obedience than the average person who sells his service. He must be respectful, but that is not necessarily degrading.

They come, as I have said, from all over the world to sell real estate here. Today a Mexican lady drove up in her automobile. She was Miss Sarah Puga, whom I had met in Mexico City. She lost her home and possessions in one of the periodical revolutionary outbreaks. She migrated to Florida with her mother, and despite a linguistic handicap mastered the language and became a real estate broker with, she says, a fair amount of success. Thousands of others have overcome similar obstacles in this American El Dorado.

But that pigeons will be roosting in many of the fine structures now under way in a few years is a silly conclusion. Old fashioned American elbow grease has reclaimed the jungle swamps and will doubtless preserve them. California made its desert wastes bloom and nothing happened. ## Golden Eagle Club Is Entertained by Mrs. Myrtle Kidder

Sixteen guests attended the meeting of the Golden Eagle club, which was held last evening in the home of Mrs. Myrtle Kidder of Dresden avenue. Music, games and a guessing contest were pastimes. The contest was won by Mrs. Maud Wason. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hoyt.

Special guests included Miss Josie Nolan, Mesdames Ella Grafton, Ethel Kennedy, Nellie Thompson and Elizabeth Hoyt.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Sarah Willison of Valley avenue, East End.

Seattle Club Session.

Last evening, in the home of Mrs. Mary Logan of Ambrose avenue, the members of the Seattle club met. A short business session was held, after which needlework, music and guessing contest were diversions. The contest was won by Mrs. Belle Birkett and Mrs. Margaret VanFossen.

The home was decorated with flowers, which were also used in the luncheon appointments. Mrs. Logan was assisted in serving by Mrs. Madge Floto, covers being arranged for 19 persons.

Mrs. Harry Pfluke of Cleveland was a special guest.

Mrs. Anna Conkle, near Calcutta, will entertain the club in two weeks in the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Kinsey, of Almont street.

J. O. Austin, manager Cunard Ocean Travel department, will be at the W. V. Blake steamship office, 207 Little bridge, Saturday, February 27, to answer any question respecting summer excursions to Europe, passports, visas, immigration laws, and the like, and will be glad to confer with any seeking authentic information of such matters.

Honor Son on Birthday.

Marking the fifteenth birthday anniversary of their son, Samuel, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown delightfully entertained a group of little folks Tuesday in their home in Lisbon street, in celebration of the fifth birthday anniversary of their son, George. The social hours were spent with juvenile games and guessing contests, trophies being awarded Glenn Wright and Fay Watson. The home was decorated in keeping with Washington's birthday, and miniature hats were given as favors. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Van Fossen, assisted by Mrs. Harry Davis.

The guests included Margaret Kennedy, Pearl Heddleston, Fay Watson, Rosetta and Sara Van Fossen, Virginia and Kathryn Davies, Glenn Wright, George Davis, Charles Watson, William Willard, Clarence Porter and Billy and Gerald Van Fossen.

Iden-Toalston Wedding.

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Mervin Iden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Iden, of Minerva, and Orville F. Toalston, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Toalston, of Kensington. The ceremony took place Saturday afternoon, February 20, in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, Canton, with Rev. S. W. Chapman, pastor of the church, officiating. Miss Gladys Toalston, a sister of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaid, while John Toalston was best man.

The bride was gowned in pink georgette crepe with hat to match, and carried bride's roses.

A wedding dinner was served in the home of the bride's parents. Sunday a reception was given in the home of the bridegroom's parents. The home was decorated with national colors. Dinner was served to 38 relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Toalston left last week for their new home in Logan, W. Va. The bridegroom is employed by the Kentucky and West Virginia Power company of New York city.

INDIANA SWEPT BY GALE; HEAVY DAMAGE CAUSED

Cyclonic Disturbance Over 1,000-mile Area Reported.

WIRES ARE DOWN

Traffic Crippled, Awnings and Signs Blown Down.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 25.—Virtually all of Indiana was swept by a gale early today that followed torrential rains and caused considerable damage.

Officials of the U. S. weather bureau here said the gales resulted from a cyclonic disturbance over a 1,000-mile area with Grand Rapids, Mich., in the center.

Fifty miles an hour wind swept Indianapolis this morning, impeding traffic, blowing down awnings, signs, etc.

Batesville, Ind., near Cincinnati, also reported a 50-miles an hour wind.

Evansville reported a 56-mile an hour wind from the southwest.

Louisville, Ky., reported a 60-mile an hour wind, also from the south west.

Vernon, Ind., reported a miniature tornado that unroofed houses, tore down chimneys and uprooted trees and poles.

Warsaw, Ind., reported a terrific gale that caused heavy damage.

Telephone and telegraph wires were rendered useless by the high strong winds and communication with many of the smaller places in Indiana was temporarily cut off.

REV. R. W. USTICK KIWANIS GUEST

District Governor Speaks at Noon Luncheon.

Official visit of Rev. R. W. Ustick, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of Wellsville, Lieutenant-governor of the Sixth district of Ohio Kiwanis, to the East Liverpool club was made at the weekly luncheon meeting in the Larkins Annex, Market street, today.

He spoke on the subject, "What We Get From a Seed." He was introduced by President Clarence C. Cline.

"Take a seed and plant it, give it cultivation and in time it will produce a flower," said the speaker. "The seed placed in the hearts of high-powered men, will produce a harvest of service in later years. Some say that most human conduct comes from instinct, but the fact that there has been deep thinking can be found at the bottom of every big accomplishment. It is a hopeless task to do Kiwanis building without clear thinking."

"The first thing that we as Kiwanians should do is to think clearly; the second, that we should love our fellow men; the third, that we should act from honest motives purely, and the fourth, that we must place our trust in God."

Sleep-Sleep

One good night of sleep will go a long way to repair the increased tension of the day. Make certain that you do not take dope. You will find Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer is a safe, safe treatment for Sleepless. It does not contain any habit-forming drug. It acts directly on the nervous system—causes sleep—allows you to sleep in a few minutes. It is a bottle, but if you will send your name and address with 10 cents for packing to J. W. Brent Co., Dept. 41, Albion, Mich., they will send you a large sample bottle. It works wonders.

H. A. KEFFER, 65, DIES IN SOUTH

Harry A. Keffer, 65, former East Liverpool pottery manufacturer, is dead in his home at Daytona Beach, Fla., according to advices received here today.

Mr. Keffer, for several years, was secretary of the Potters' Co-Operative company. He organized the Sevres China company, then located at Second and Market streets, which later became the plant of the Warren-Keffe China company. He left here in 1912.

His wife, who died several years ago, was formerly Miss Cora Moore, of Lisbon. He is survived by several sons and daughters.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Industrial stock leaders made another effort to pull the market out of its slough of despond in the early trading today. An early advance of 5 points in American Can, and strong "birthday" buying of United States Steel imparted a confident tone to other sections of the speculative list. The low-priced rails were still under the influence of the collapse in A. B. and A. the stock selling at $2 a share, against yesterday's high price of $3, and the former close at 4. Chicago and Alton stocks also continued their perpendicular decline.

Bears renewed their pressure against the industrials and specialties in the second hour, having the best success with Fleischmann, Atlantic Gulf and West Indies, Air Reduction, General Electric, etc.

"Banking support" which appeared to be present near the opening was suddenly withdrawn and stocks all over the board settled down to a lower range.

Atlantic Coast Line sold in good volume around 227 for a decline of  $\frac{1}{2}$  points. Weakness persisted in Chicago and Alton. The common stock falling  $\frac{1}{2}$  points to 6 and the preferred down 26 to 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ , the lowest prices of the year. Fear of a heavy assessment in reorganization was the motive behind today's session.

Call money unchanged at 5 per cent.

FIREMEN SCORE HIT IN MINSTREL

Capacity Crowd Attends Performance; Will be Repeated Tonight.

Third annual minstrel show under the auspices of the Volunteer fire department was staged last evening before a crowd that taxed the capacity of the Chester theatre. Long before the curtain went up standing room was at a premium.

The production, which was staged under the direction of William Steven-son and Austin A. Bolles, ran off without a hitch and was declared one of the best ever staged under similar auspices.

The minstrel first part took the house by storm and every member of the cast was seen to advantage. William McKinney, as interlocutor, Percy Willison, Lon Allison, Andy Blair, Kenneth Martin, L. L. Smith and Dever Dewell, as end men, with a number of new jokes and witty sayings, many of local interest, scored heavily. They were forced to respond to a number of encores in rendition of many of the latest song hits.

Vocal selections were given by L. W. Bird, Carroll G. Woods, E. V. Wehner, Lon Allison, L. L. Smith, J. C. Johnston, Andy Blair, Ray Hulse, R. A. Douglass and Dever Dewell. Thelma Swearingen, Mary Springer, Armita Merschord, Justine Simpson, Wilma Pugh and Martha Bartley appeared in ukulele selections.

Miss Catherine Bloor scored in a song number entitled "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," in which she was assisted by a quartet. Miss Maxine Bloor headed the "Baby Dolls' Frolic," assisted by Sara Mercer, Doris Poole, Elizabeth Davis, Mary Skinner, Eleanor Lowary, Eunice McDonald, Ethel Smith, Mary McKinley Brant, Mary Parker, Twyla Hissam, Kathryn Bloor and Flelta McMillen. L. L. Smith

Andy Bair, Kenneth Martin, Leslie Smith, Johnny Joyce and Paul Orr, pleased with musical numbers on various instruments.

The entire cast appeared in a sketch entitled "The Alabama Jubilee," and one depicting a broadcasting station.

The performance will be repeated tonight with another large crowd as-sured.

IRWIN FUNERAL RITES TONIGHT

Funeral services for Wayne Riddle Irwin, 21 years old, will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Irwin, Phoenix Avenue. Rev. W. J. H. McKnight, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, will be in charge. The body will be taken to Clintonville, Pa., tomorrow morning where services will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church. Burial will be made there.

LINCOLN WAY BIDS SOUGHT

Pennsylvania Seeks Figures on Two Sections.

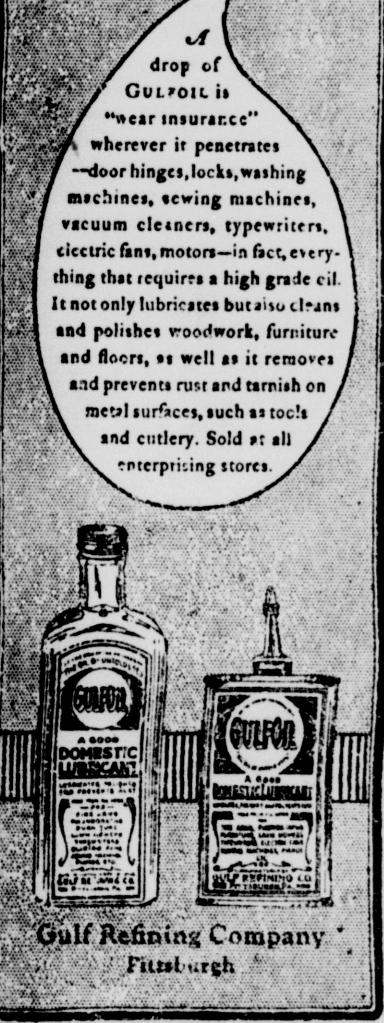

The Pennsylvania state highway department will open bids for the grading and paving of the Lincoln highway, west of Clinton, on March 23, according to word received here today. This section connects with the proposed improvement which starts at Laughlin's Corner and for which bids will be received on March 2.

The Clinton-Laughlin's Corners road will cost approximately $1,000,000. It will shorten the distance between Pittsburgh and East Liverpool to about 40 miles.

Work on the job will begin early in April. Contractors must agree to complete it before next winter. All materials for the two sections of the new highway will be hauled from the railroad head at Chester.

Proclaiming of New Messiah in India Stirs Religionists

BOMBAY.—The proclaiming at Adyar, India, of a new Messiah through the person of J. Krishnamurti, a young Hindu who has been trained as a prophet by Mrs. Annie Besant, the noted English theosophist, has aroused widespread discussion and some apprehension in Indian religious circles.

Thirty-three countries were represented at the Adyar ceremonies, which were held in connection with the coming of the Messiah, the United States sending thirty-six delegates, while representatives were also present from all European countries and from China, Iceland, Argentina, Australia and Uruguay.

The new religion which the Hindu Krishnamurti is to found is to be, according to theosophists here, a "Spiritual League of Nations, not replacing present religions, but binding all of them together."

An Important Message to the Good Citizenship of East Liverpool and Its Adjacent Communities

The selection of a memorial is of vastly greater importance than is generally recognized.

This salient fact exists because of the vast amount of materials now being employed in the building of memorials. A number of these are reliable, but the chief fact remains. A number of materials are not worthy of the name memorial. The only excuse for employing the latter material is its cheapness, but unfortunately it proves the most expensive, for remember the memorial you select should endure all time.

May we offer our services in aiding you to intelligently determine upon this very important problem?

We are located in your midst, our interests are mutual, we must depend upon you now and the future also, on the quality of our memorials depends our future. We are not here today and gone tomorrow, but can be found if anything further is in your judgment required of us, after completion of our work. We earnestly invite your most careful investigation of our reliability and as producers of quality memorials. We are in position to furnish anything in this connection from the most humble marker to the most elaborate monument or mausoleum.

We will be most pleased to design something entirely befitting your cemetery plot taking into consideration the contour of the ground and surroundings which materially affect the selection of design and have in our employ artists with ability equal to any of our knowledge.

We ask your earnest consideration of your local dealer. Write or phone Main 988 for any information or appointment.

TEACHERS MEET
IS SCHEDULED

County Institute Will be Held in Lisbon
March 13.

The annual one-day teachers' institute for this county is scheduled to convene in the auditorium of the David Anderson high school, West Lincoln way, Lisbon, Saturday, March 13, as it was announced today by Superintendent of Schools H. "Cascarets" 10c

Don't stay headachy, bilious, constipated, sick! Take one or two "Cascarets" any time to mildly stimulate your liver and start your bowels. Then you will feel fine, your head becomes clear, stomach a sweet, tongue pink and skin rosy.

Nothing else cleans, sweetens, and refreshes the entire system like pleasant, harmless candy-like "Cascarets." They never gripe, overact or sicken. Directions for men, women, children on each box—drugstores.

Blackheads Go Quick
By This Simple Method

This is a simple method that makes blackheads go as if by magic. Get two ounces of Calenite Powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub briskly over the affected parts, and in two minutes, you will find every blackhead dissolved away entirely.

Toughest of Old
Hang-On Coughs Go

Why send a boy to do man's work? Sweet, sugary cough syrups may help a simple cough, but when you are traveling along towards the cemetery with a stubborn tight old cough that lingers on and on with the most persistent devilishness then you need a real cough medicine—and the realest destroyer of tough old coughs is Broncholine.

The cough may be so tantalizing that you can't sleep nights and your days may be filled with racking torture, yet that just the kind of a cough that Broncholine likes to tackle and conquer.

Many times a few doses will stop the hacking and loosen things up and you can depend upon half a bottle to make a two months' cough quit cold and disappear.

Life is sweet—it will be much sweeter when you get rid of that old time cough.

Ask Carnahan's Drug Stores, Jesse D. Holloway or any wideawake druggist for a bottle of Broncholine. There's no dope in it—or chloroform, and a couple of teaspoons will usually end any ordinary cough.

Hair Dry, Brittle
from Constant
Waving, Curling

The constant curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, and full of dandruff; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast.

Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to appear their prettiest, try "Dandrine" to offset any bad effects. After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, become incomparably soft, wavy and appear twice as thick and abundant. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears.

A 35-cent bottle of refreshing "Dandrine" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping their hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.

Thousands of men and women who come home exhausted, nervous and irritable every evening are really victims of—chronic fatigue.

Chronic fatigue is an unnatural tiredness—usually due to lack of sufficient organic iron in the blood. To conquer it you must restore this iron to your blood. For this purpose nothing equals organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which is like the iron in your blood and like that in spinach and lentils. It will not injure the teeth or disturb the stomach like old-fashioned mineral iron medicines.

Take Nuxated Iron for just 2 weeks and notice how much stronger and better you feel. Money back if not improved. At all good druggists.

TWO CHAMPIONS WILL MATCH SHOTS IN 'GOLF CLASSIC OF CENTURY'

WALTER HAGEN

Amateur King Carries Edge In Medal Play; Hagen's Calmness, Long Putts, Will Aid Him

By Norman E. Brown.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 25.—Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones, kings in their respective golfing spheres and rightfully rated as the two greatest golfers in the United States, if not in the world, are ready for their first duel for supremacy of the links.

Time and again have these stars competed in important tournaments where their individual scores gave some indication of their comparative ability, but this is the first time they have agreed to battle it out man to man.

And I'm glad that I'm going to be among those present when the first 36 holes of the 72 are played over the Whitfield Country club course at Sarasota, February 28, and the final 36 holes over the Pasadena Country club links at St. Petersburg, March 6.

Jones Has Edge in 'Opens.'

If their relative showings in six national open tournaments in which both participated are conceded to have any weight on gauging the outcome of the coming match, Jones has the edge.

They have played in the same fields in six of the opens.

Jones emerged from the last of these six a total of some 29 strokes ahead of Hagen. Jones has finished ahead of his rival in position in every one excepting the tourney at Columbia in 1921.

On the basis of results obtained in honors won in major tournaments there is little on which to give either man the edge. Hagen astounded the golfing world when he won the British open tourney—considered the real world's championship—two years in three. For the last two years he has held the U. S. pro title.

Jones has topped a wonderful record for consistent playing in the big national tournaments by holding the national amateur championship two years in succession.

In 1923 Jones had won the national open and had made a bid for the amateur that same summer. For years preceding these three Jones had played superb golf in the major tournaments only to find himself pitted against superhuman golf at the crucial moments. In one or two of the earlier meets he has been defeated by several years as one of the greatest tournament players in the game.

Hagen, before his big years on the British Isles in 1922 and 1924, had won the U. S. open twice, the western twice and a host of other golf honors.

The matter of form must be weighed carefully. This despite the fact that in the event either if off his form ratio means little.

Jones is without doubt a great medal player. Hagen is, however, better fitted temperamentally for match play. He is the most superbly confident human being I have ever met—not excepting Ping Bodie.

"Let Him See This."

They tell of Hagen the story that in one of his important tournaments, when he needed a long putt to tie or defeat his opponent, he deliberately ordered his caddie to summon the jolly rival from the club-house. "Tell him I want him to see me make this shot," said the confident Walter.

He has a natural "Ritz-y" air about him that can be terribly disconcerting to an opponent. Dressed immaculately and groomed the same, he takes to the course with the easy grace of society's leading hostess. One feels as though Hagen may well be expected to use correct form even to the extent of never stepping in front of his ball. Jones is more serious. He has taught himself to be serious. It took years of effort for him to curb his temper to control himself. He is aware of that.

In actual play Jones has the advantage—judging by the performances—in the shots from the tee. He drives more accurately. Hagen has more confidence in bad lies, however. What the ordinary tourney player would call a real tough lie worries Hagen not at all.

On the green both men are deadly at their best, but Hagen is given a bit more to "off days" at putting. It may be that one or two putts may undo any damage Jones incurs in bad lies. On the other hand Hagen frequently sinks "marathon" putts in confusing style.

However, as I sense the spirit, the golfing world is not so much interested in the probable winner as it is in having the chance to see the greatest professional golfer of the day—if not in the history of American golf—in direct competition with the greatest amateur and the most interesting golfer this country has ever produced.

Will Play Outfield For Stengel's Crew

Signs Contract for 1926 at Conference With Mudhens' Manager This Week; Ordered to Report for Workouts on March 14 at Jackson, Tenn.; "Casey" Expects Team to Finish up in the Money.

HARRY 'Hi' MYERS, ex-Brooklyn and St. Louis National Leaguer, today is a member of Case Stengel's Toledo American association club.

The former East Liverpool sandlotter, who plucked away to fame in the big time of the national game after being started along the upward trail by Alex Sweeney, former O. & P. catcher and manager, and whose name will rank along with the rest of the Ceramic City's all-time stars, such as Toadie Carey, Winnie Mercer, Curt Welsh, Alf Shaw, Darragh brothers, Hennel Wolf, Ed. Hanlon and Bill Powell, today announced that he had definitely accepted terms with the Mudhens for the 1926 campaign.

He will report on Sunday, March 14, at the Toledo training camp at Jackson, Tenn., where he will work out with the veterans and rookies prior to the opening of the association season. Myers will perform at his old position in center field.

Myers signed following a several days' conference with Stengel at Toledo the first of the week. He also had received offers from Hank Gowdy, pilot of the Columbus club, and was in a position to dicker with a major league team for two for the season.

But, he announced today, Stengel's terms were good and they were accepted.

Stengel, according to Myers, is optimistic over prospects for the Toledo outfit. He appears to be well fortified in practically every department, although he admits that two or three or four from the Columbus club who expected to bring up that end of the outfit.

Lebourveau, known at one time as one of the fastest men in the big leagues, also an ex-Athlete, is a recent addition to the Stengel crew, moving over from Minneapolis.

This is Stengel's first big try as a club pilot. He managed the Providence club of the New England league last year, but the job was more or less of a trial event and he moved westward to take charge of Toledo.

With the addition of Myers, Lebourveau, a catcher and possibly a pitcher or two he figures he'll have a club that will place well up in the money.

WILLS WINNER IN CUP PLAY

Playing in Top Form She Defeats English Star.

By Frederick K. Abbott.

MONTE CARLO, Feb. 25.—Helen Wills advanced another round in the Duke of Connaught gold cup tournament today when she defeated Miss Lily Cadle of England, 60, 61.

Miss Wills played in top form, showing excellent effects from her day of rest yesterday. She scored 70 points to Miss Cadle's 24.

When Miss Wills played Miss Cadle on January 20, she defeated her 60, 63.

Jeffries and Stewart starred for the Pennsylvanians.

Last night's victory is the second in the last two weeks for the locals over the Rochester combine.

HOPPE DEFEATED BY YOUNG JAKE

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Jake Schaefer, holder of the world's 18.2 balkline billiard crown, can enjoy the satisfaction today of knowing he is capable of holding another world's title.

In the concluding block of an 18.1 exhibition match played here last night, "Young Jake" stood victorious over Willie Hoppe, holder of the 18.1 premier laurels. From the start of the match several days ago, Jake was never in trouble. This, incidentally, is in spite of the fact it was his first appearance in an 18.1 contest, the final score for the match was Schaefer 1,500, Hoppe 1,115.

The 18.2 champion finished the match with a grand average of 30 for six blocks, while the best Hoppe could muster was 32 15-50.

COURT RESULTS

Assumption, 19; Dayton, 17; Geneva, 37; Pitt, 29; Kenyon, 39; Otterbein, 38; Kansas, 29; Washington U., 22; Canton Pros, 64; Alliance Pros, 33.

Finer Transportation at Lower Cost

More Buicks are now being sold than ever before in Buick history. And an important reason is the fact that, though expensively built, a Buick may be inexpensively purchased.

Buick could spend less money building its chassis, and still keep the quality up to the average in Buick's price class. The famous Buick Valve-In-Head engine is a more expensive type to build. Buick could use a steering gear less expensive than the 5-control-surface steering mechanism which adds so much to Buick's driving ease. The Torque-Tube Drive also adds expense to Buick manufacture, as do the "Sealed Chassis," the "Triple Sealed" engine, full pressure engine lubrication, the Buick multiple-disc, dry-plate clutch, and Buick mechanical 4-wheel brakes.

Buick closed bodies are built by Fisher to the most exacting standards laid down by any manufacturer today.

Quality, regardless of its cost, rules Buick design. But thanks to the sustained popularity of this quality, purchasers actually pay less for it. Vast volume gives Buick owners finer transportation at lower cost. Your next car should be a Better Buick!

RED PEPPER HEAT ENDS RHEUMATISM

Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff, aching joints. It can't hurt you, and certainly stops that old rheumatism torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any good druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine, with the name Rowles on each package.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headache, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "dug" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15¢ and 30¢.

Lived For Two Weeks On Half Bottle of Milk

The remarkable experience of Mrs. Alice Polly, 209 W. 5th street, Huntington, W. Va., is related in her own story below. Mrs. Polly feels that she has been wonderfully benefited with the popular herbal remedy, Ka-die-oh and cheerfully volunteers her story in hope that it may help others similarly afflicted. "I had cramps in my legs," she explained to the Ka-die-oh representative recently, "and the pain was something awful. I would have vomiting spells and could not eat, could not even stand the fumes from the kitchen. I lived for two weeks on a half bottle of milk."

"Since taking the first dose of Ka-die-oh I have never had a vomiting spell and it has done wonders for me in every way. I am getting stronger and as well pleased to say I am among the living. I never expect to do without Ka-die-oh." The amazing results that Ka-die-oh has effected and such stories as above have spread the fame of Ka-die-oh far and wide. People in all walks of life have found relief from stomach, kidney and liver ailments and we are receiving daily hundreds of letters of praise to Ka-die-oh.

Ka-die-oh is sold in East Liverpool at Mathews' Cut Rate Store and other drug stores.

Eve's Two Lovers

EDGAR POE NORRIS

THE CENTRAL PRESS ASSOCIATION

SIX.

Eve MacLurie entered John Ingate's private office the next morning with a light step that bespoke a happy mind, and laid the letters she had opened and decided needed his attention upon his desk.

"Good morning, Eve." There was a new reserve in his voice.

"Good morning, Mr. Ingate. Here are letters from the Stevenson and Hart people and the West Central Shoe Company, both wanting to know why we haven't followed the lead of—"

"Let's talk about that later, Eve. There's something else I wish to say to you... I have been thinking of you continually since yesterday. Forgive me for whatever I said yesterday that might have indicated that I doubted your sincerity. I only ask, Eve, that you marry neither of us now, but wait until you are sure of yourself and your heart—until you know which of us you really love... Oh, Eve, I hope so much that it is me. You would make me so happy."

The face of his escort darkened. "We can use the money I would get. There's such a distressing amount of things to buy when you're setting up a home."

"I don't think I want you to work..."

"Why not? I can attend to the house, all right. I won't shirk any home duties. Besides, I think I ought to help them out."

"Of course, HE wants you to keep on working."

Eve colored. "Clay!" he got up. He caught her arm. "Oh, you know I didn't mean it that way."

WALNUT GROVE, Sacramento County, Cal., Feb. 25.—No man could describe this state or all the things in it. There is too much for even a California mind to carry. Rabalais himself with all his vocabulary could not do it justice.

Soon the days of real flying will be here. A trip from Boston to San Francisco will be as simple as a trip by electric car to the suburbs. To live in the United States and not know California will be to admit rank provincialism.

You leave San Francisco taking the ferry to Oakland, cross San Francisco bay, a miniature Mediterranean, into the valley at the bottom of the bay. The waters of the Pacific pour through the Golden gate as they pour through Gibraltar straits, those Pillars of Hercules into the Mediterranean. Around this Mediterranean of the west there is growing up a new race, a new civilization, a new start for the human race that will make the old seem as small as the Mediterranean compared with the Pacific ocean.

In one corner of this great bay you could drop and lose New York's harbor. On either side of the bay is a great city. All about, north, south and east are the richest and most beautiful lands on earth and to the west the Pacific, western frontier of the white race.

EVERYBODY has said you must see the Sacramento valley. Good westerners tell you other marvelous valleys that you must see, valleys in Colorado, in Arizona and California, the Imperial valley, the Napa valley, Sonoma, San Fernando, Santa Clara, many others, not forgetting the great San Joaquin valley, with the world champion cattle and dairy regions and several thousand million barrels of oil underneath the soil.

You run along perfect roads everywhere, of course, in California. They don't talk roads, they build them. You leave Oakland, a great city, facing the Orient and a great future, plunging in a country of most intense development.

First comes Solano county, and you think you are in some English landscape multiplied in size by about 1,000, the sky 10 times as high as any sky in Eden, and farms 10 times as big.

Beautiful high green hills, covered with sheep and lambs. Thousands of them tottering behind their mothers, eat fresh green grass, enjoying the warm sunshine on this February day.

Through Fairfield and Suisun past one of the magnificent high schools that are the glory of this nation you enter the Sacramento valley and see what you came to see.

If the Egyptians had seen this place the pyramids would be here, the Sphinx and Tutankhamen's tomb. This land has everything that Egypt and the Nile valley ever had plus much.

How to Remove 48 Kinds of Stains

Perhaps you do not realize how many different kinds of stains can disfigure people's clothes.

It is almost impossible for anyone to escape having food stains on clothing at some time or other.

What would you do if you upset the ink bottle on an expensive table cover, medicine on your host suit, ruined a gown with paint stains, or scorched the newest linen tablecloth?

All of these things happen every day. But there is a remedy for every blemish you may get on your clothing and household linens.

These are all listed in a 36-page booklet, with illustrations, which this Bureau has for free distribution. Fill out the attached coupon and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

TROY CITIZENS OFFER REWARD IN PROBE INTO NESBITT DEATH

Prosecutor and Detective Launch Another Investigation.

POLICE BAFFLED

Coroner's Inquest Fails to Uncover Clew to Murderer.

TROY, O., Feb. 25.—Thoroughly aroused by the brutal and mysterious murder of one of its most popular woman residents, and convinced that there is no "perfect" crime, citizens of Troy and Miami county today started a campaign to raise money for a reward for information leading to the arrest of the person or persons who killed Mrs. Frances Drake Nesbitt in the bathroom of her home here last Friday.

Authorities Silent.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 25.—Another investigation was launched by Prosecuting Attorney L. E. Harvey and Joseph Wilcox, Dayton detective.

Maintaining an attitude of silence as to what clew they hoped to uncover, these officials were today revisiting the scene of the crime and conducting a thorough search of the premises.

"There is no perfect crime," Prosecutor Harvey said before leaving for the Nesbitt home, "and there is surely a clew in this case. We mean to find it."

If conditions warrant, a special session of the grand jury will be held to investigate the tragedy, Harvey said.

Coroner G. J. Hance ended his inquest Wednesday night after examining 22 witnesses. Following the inquest, Prosecutor Harvey stated that

Campaign Against Poolroom Loafers Launched By Police

Charges Husband Loafs at Poolroom, Sues for Divorce

The allegation that her husband "loafs at a Sixth street poolroom" is one of the grounds cited by Anna Hebron, 18, in a petition for divorce filed today in common please court, Lisbon, against Herbert Le Ro Hebron, 176 Ravine street. She also named one Mary Allison as co-respondent, and charged extreme cruelty and failure to provide.

The couple was married at New Cumberland, February 5, 1925.

The petition was entered by a next friend, Louise Pratt.

Two Persons Killed, 60 Hurt, 600 Houses Leveled by Quake

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Two persons were killed, 60 injured and 600 houses destroyed in an earthquake in the Dodecanese islands today, according to a Central New dispatch from Athens.

The Dodecanese islands are an island group in the Aegean sea now owned by Italy. Most of the inhabitants are Greeks.

The case had its beginning when Boston was arrested about two years ago, charged with the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. He told Mayor Brown, by whom he was tried, that he had purchased the liquor from Turk. Turk was then arrested, Boston being the witness against him.

Judge Hanley, after two of the witnesses had been examined, instructed the jury to return the verdict.

Turk asserts that Boston promised to leave town upon payment of $300.

Turk marked the money and after he had paid it over to him, Boston was injured.

Judge Hanley, after two of the witnesses had been examined, instructed the jury to return the verdict.

CHECKER STARS
PLAN TOURNEY

Contests for City Title to be Held During March.

Plans for a city-wide checker tournament to determine supremacy among Wellsville devotees of the game, were announced here today. The tournament is scheduled to start on March 1 and will run throughout the month, with one round being played each week.

According to present indications, there will be at least 20 contestants, the entry list having opened this week.

All city checker players will be eligible to take part in the tourney which will be conducted on double tournament plan, standard rules.

A small entry fee will be charged, with the proceeds being divided into three prizes.

A committee of four of the city's leading players has been appointed to complete arrangements. The committee includes H. Todd, Sr., Oscar Lewis, E. W. Urié and J. S. Calhoun.

Prospective entrants, in order to secure a place in the opening round, will file their names with this committee prior to March 1.

Tells how boys take care of sprains and strains

ACHES AND PAINS
ARE SOON FIXED UP

Simple, easy treatment brings quick relief

Quick, sure relief from pain is what men want when they get lamed up from over-exercise or exposure, or when they get a sprain or bruise.

A soldier in the Sixth Pennsylvania Infantry writes from camp:—“Sloan's is a great thing for us boys in the army. After a stiff hike or drill your muscles are bound to ache, but they are soon fixed up with Sloan's. It's great stuff for muscle-bound legs, lame backs, stiff necks, sprains or bruises.”

The reason that Sloan's Liniment gives such remarkable relief is that it gets right at the cause of the pain. It stimulates the circulation throughout the place where the pain is, and clears out congestion.

Right away you feel relief. Stiff muscles limber up, the aching stops, and soon you are fit as ever. No need to rub. Sloan's does the whole job. Just pat it on! Get a bottle today. All druggists—35 cents.

FIELD WORK FOR
DEPUTY McDEVITT

Deputy Sheriff Joseph McDevitt of Wellsville has been assigned to field work by Sheriff George Wright in the collection of dog license tax which is now due and unpaid.

Mr. McDevitt was appointed deputy sheriff several months ago, but the field work has been assigned to him since the resignation of Deputy Sheriff Henry Burbon was accepted.

The heart songs of old Dixie, songs of the cotton field and the levee, the delightful old plantation melodies, negro folk songs and spirituals, these, as rendered by the Smiley's, have largely given them their reputation as a singing group. Yet they go further and into the realm of semi-classical and popular groups. In fact, they leave nothing to be desired in the way of a first class jubilee program.

Adam and Claude Smiley are soloists of extensive training who are gifted with voices of extremely beautiful quality, and their individual efforts measure up in every way with the splendid ensemble numbers given by the quartet. Sylvester Jones, the accompanist, also offers novel features on the banjo. Humorous numbers galore are used in the program, and the old plantation melodies are staged in typical southern costumes.

At the same time it has acted as a bar to the further activities of "credit spongers" who were able to carry insurance without paying any premiums at all, by the simple method of contracting for a policy on credit and when it was canceled for non-payment of premium to obtain another agency on a similarly liberal credit terms.

The Italian Debt Again

The public had almost forgotten about the Italian debt settlement, assuming that that little detail of international business was taken care of and out of the way. Now it bobs up again. The Senate has not yet disposed of the matter.

There is an unexpected volume of opposition to the settlement made by the debt commission and approved by the president. It appears in both parties. Most of it is based on a feeling that Italy was let off too easily. Some of it comes from a dislike of Mussolini.

Both classes of critics can make a good argument. Americans generally do not approve of Mussolini and his autocratic methods, and would like to get a good deal more from Italy in payment of the American debt. But most Americans seem to feel that the amount agreed upon is probably as much as Italy can or will pay, and that we're lucky to get that much. If the present settlement is overthrown now, we may not get anything at all.

An Air-Wise Nation

"Those with even a small amount of vision," remarks the New Orleans Times-Picayune, "must recognize that within a short time military aviation will bear no greater ratio to civil flight than our war equipments on land and sea today bear to our merchant shipping and industrial activities."

It is to that end that the Guggenheim schools of aeronautics are working. Mr. Guggenheim has said that he wants "to make the American public air-wise."

For the same purpose the British government is encouraging the development of aviation clubs in England. A fifth such club has just been organized. The government places light, easily operated airplanes at the disposal of the clubs, the enthusiastic members of which agree to master the flying art. It is expected that before long the flying clubs will be self-sustaining and as popular as boat clubs or golf clubs.

Military aviation developed so suddenly and so marvelously during the war that it has been difficult for the public to comprehend its tremendous peace time possibilities for commerce and pleasure. The emphasis is now being placed on these phases and the airplane is gradually coming into full and satisfactory use.

Old Debts and New Loans

American loans and investments abroad are rolling up right along, surpassing both principal payments and interest payments from our foreign debtors. There is possibly half a billion a year due our investors in dividends and interest, but most of it remains abroad, being reinvested there, along with the new loans.

How long can this last? What it amounts to is that we are still lending Europe money to pay her old debts, and lending it faster than we are getting it back. Sooner or later American capitalists will probably get tired of this one-sided business, and turn their money into domestic investment. Then Europe will owe us, right along, more than she is getting from us in new cash.

One of two things must happen then. Either the debtors will default in payments, or the debtor countries will send us a steady surplus of goods in lieu of money.

The latter would mean an excess of imports over exports for the United States, usually interpreted as "unfavorable trade balance."

It might depress American industry, though that is by no means certain. Those who think it would do so have a good argument for discouraging new loans to old debtors, and urging the use of American money for the development of American resources.

No Parole For Repeaters

A Minneapolis professor of sociology gives statistics to show that 62 per cent of the inmates of United States penal institutions have served parts of one or more previous sentences. He regards this as proof that these criminals are incapable of reform, and advocates locking them up for life.

Perhaps it is not so much that all of them are incapable of reform as that most of them are willing to take advantage of the easy pardon and parole systems that prevail throughout the country. If every "repeater," appearing for a second offense, were automatically barred from the benefits of pardon or parole and made to serve the full term of his sentence, the great pastime of getting into mischief while out on parole might become less popular.

"We ought to have Mussolini for president of the United States," says a Fascistic citizen. Really, it would be worth while, just to see what the senate would do to him.

Women will be women. Members of the Women's party insist on women's immemorial right to work all day and all night if they want to, in the factory or office just as they've always been free to do at home.

Anyway, there's this consolation about rubber—the financial reports show that our tire manufacturers haven't lost any money through British monopoly.

Who says the Turks are not civilized like other nations, when they base their diplomacy on oil?

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Lakes-Ocean Traffic economics
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.—The Great Lakes-St. Lawrence seaway is an essential to the people of the United States and Canada as are the Straits of Gibraltar to Southern Europe, the Dardanelles and Bosphorus to the people of Russia and the Balkans, or the Baltic navigation to northern Europe. No logical plan for our future transportation needs can fail to recognize its basic position, as the project is of outstanding international and national interest rather than sectional in its character.

Probable transportation savings on grain alone plus the enhancement of farm prices will each year equal or exceed that share of the cost of the St. Lawrence canalization which would be properly chargeable to navigation under the original project submitted to Congress by the International Joint Commission.

Specifically, the items of this financial benefit of the proposed waterway are $44,000,000 annual savings in transportation costs on grain moving to the eastern seaboard, and $196,000,000 in annual farm price enhancement due to the influence of cheaper transportation. Traffic interested in the project amounts to 30,000,000 tons annually.

Such are some of the conclusions arrived at in a survey of transportation economics of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Ship Canal by Alfred H. Ritter, transportation and port specialist. Mr. Ritter's detailed report has just been submitted to Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, who is the chairman of the St. Lawrence Commission of the United States.

It is expected to exercise a potent influence in the decision of the Commission as to its recommendation to Congress relative to the lakes-ocean waterway, and it is sponsored and published by the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater Association, in which body 21 States are united by authority of their respective legislatures to work for an adequate transportation outlet from the Middle West to the Atlantic.

Qualifies As An Authority

That Mr. Ritter qualifies as an authority on the subject is shown by his record. In 1920 he prepared, in collaboration with Dr. R. S. MacElwee, a report which was submitted to the International Joint Commission and became part of the favorable report of that body in relation to the projected improvement. Since that time, in accordance with instructions of Congress, an extensive investigation of American ports has been made by the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors and the War Department, in cooperation with the United States Shipping Board, the results of which are appearing in some twenty-five volumes known as the Port Series. Mr. Ritter has had immediate charge of the preparation of this series.

More recently he has been in charge of a study of the commerce and transportation facilities on the Great Lakes undertaken by the War Department and the Shipping Board to supplement the Port Series.

The present report is limited mainly to the utilization of the proposed waterway by ocean vessels, the traffic available for movement, and the savings which will be made possible as a result of moving the sea base back to the shores of the Great Lakes.

In the work incident to preparing it Mr. Ritter states that he has visited nearly all of the ports of the United States involved, and has studied in detail the facilities available for traffic, the amount, nature, origin, and destination of the business moving through our ports, and the suitability of the facilities nad shipping services for serving the local and interior hinterlands.

Unusual opportunities were afforded him, also, by Canadian governmental, railway, and commercial agencies to gather transportation and statistical data.

The report shows the number of tons of various commodities carried by vessels of various draft in our foreign and domestic commerce, operating costs of these vessels, and the additional expense required to operate to Lake ports as compared with Atlantic ports. Also statistics are presented as to the traffic moving through Atlantic, Gulf, and Pacific ports to points on and adjacent to the Great Lakes, and existing ocean and rail rates are compared with feasible rates direct to Lake ports via the St. Lawrence Waterway.

Thoroughly Practicable

Mr. Ritter says that the proposed waterway will be thoroughly practicable for ocean vessels, and that the success of the route from the Atlantic to the lakes would not depend upon its being used by the great express passenger liners, or by large combination passenger and freight liners.

The amount of restricted navigation will be insufficient, in his judgment, either to interfere with the use of the waterway, or to have any important effect upon rates, but he recommends that the depth of the canal be made 30 feet instead of 25 feet as provided in the plan under consideration by the Joint Commission of Canada and the United States, and by the commissions of each country.

It is pointed out that of 4087 commercial vessels carrying cargo through the Panama Canal in a year, only 294 had drafts of 30 feet or more, while there were no commercial vessels that exceeded 624 feet in length, nor 74 feet in width, and only 16 had lengths in excess of 575 feet.

The locks in the Welland and St. Lawrence canals will have an available length of 820 feet, a width of 80 feet, and a depth of 30 feet over the sills. It is in the reaches that the increase in depth from 25 to 30 feet will be made if the expert's advice is followed.

The territory tributary to the Great Lakes-Atlantic waterway for commerce with the United Kingdom and Atlantic Europe is found to include all of sixteen States and parts of eight others, with an aggregate population of 45,000,000, while the territory tributary to commerce with Mediterranean ports is but slightly less restricted and the population is 43,000,000.

The territory tributary to the Great Lakes-Atlantic waterway for commerce with South America and Africa has a population of 33,000,000; for that with the Orient and Australasia, 32,000,000, and that for commerce with

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. MCINTYRE

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 24.—The world is asking of Florida, "When will the boom burst?" and making ready to plug its ear for the crash. My own idea is the top wave of land values has been reached and that there will be natural deflation.

But that pigeons will be roosting in many of the fine structures now under way in a few years is a silly conclusion. Old-fashioned American elbow grease has reclaimed the jungle swamps and will doubtless preserve them. California made its desert wastes bloom and nothing happened. Panic does not necessarily follow prosperity.

There is no gainsaying Florida is a topsy-turvy land. The frenzied hullabaloo has resulted in mistakes of the hand and not of the heart. Sane and honest men are at the helm to keep it off financial rocks. It is already trimming its sails. The slack is being pulled in.

In fact the boom—if it could be called that—has burst. The mad speculation epitomized by what were known as the "binder boys" has subsided. They came here from all corners of the world, lived in affluence awhile, and many of them rode the rods out of various bohemian centers.

Invariably I have found that people who have lived in Florida for several years are wedded to the state. They will determine its future—and not the floaters. From now on I believe that growth will be healthy and normal and seasoned with sanity. Thus endeth a dumber's sermon on economics.

Homer and Alvin are trained servants attached to Will Hogg's New York apartment and imported in the Florida hegira. Homer is a cook who resembles one of those sad grand opera tenors always looking for work among the local and interior hinterlands.

Unusual opportunities were afforded him, also, by Canadian governmental, railway, and commercial agencies to gather transportation and statistical data.

The report shows the number of tons of various commodities carried by vessels of various draft in our foreign and domestic commerce, operating costs of these vessels, and the additional expense required to operate to Lake ports as compared with Atlantic ports. The territory tributary to the Great Lakes-Atlantic waterway for commerce with South America and Africa has a population of 33,000,000; for that with the Orient and Australasia, 32,000,000, and that for commerce with the West Indies and Central America, 35,000,000.

As an example of the saving to the people of the interior on imports the item of coffee is cited. The lakes-ocean route will result in savings per ton over the present routing via New York of $7.00 to Cleveland, $7.80 to Toledo, $9.60 to Chicago, $7.80 to Detroit, and $16.30 to Duluth.

They est most important export product that will use the waterway is grain in which the possible traffic will amount to 10,000,000 tons a year. Mr. Ritter says that the result should be an improvement in farm prices on grain of as much as 6 cents a bushel as far south as Wichita, Kansas, and as far west as Teton, Montana, while prices in the territory north of Kansas City and east of Frazer, Montana, should be benefited by amounts ranging from 7.2 to 12.1 cents.

The expert concludes his report with the statement that the St. Lawrence Ship Canal is not a rival to any inland waterway, constructed or proposed, but is an extension of existing ocean routes, and will in effect establish a new and fourth seacoast.

Announcement was made today of the marriage of Miss Mermie Iden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Iden, of Minerva, and Orville F. Toalston, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Toalston, of Kensington. The ceremony took place Saturday afternoon, February 20, in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church, Canton, with Rev. S. W. Chapman, pastor of the church, officiating. Miss Gladys Toalston, a sister of the bridegroom, served as bridesmaid, while John Toalston was best man.

The bride was gowned in pink georgette crepe with hat to match, and carried bride's roses.

A wedding dinner was served in the home of the bride's parents. Sunday a reception was given in the home of the bridegroom's parents. The home was decorated with national colors. Dinner was served to 38 relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Toalston left last week for their new home in Logan, W. Va. The bridegroom is employed by the Kentucky and West Virginia Power company of New York city.

Miss Bertha Green Surprised.

A group of friends from the Nazarene Sunday school delightfully surprised Miss Bertha Green in her home Monday evening, in honor of her twelfth birthday anniversary. The social hours were spent with games and music. A vocal duet selection was given by Miss Gertrude Thomas and Miss Alice Hile, accompanied by Miss Evelyn Davis.

A five-course luncheon was served by the honor guest's mother, Mrs. Green, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Peterson. Covers were arranged for 18 guests.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. E. M. Tingler and two daughters from Weirton, W. Va.

Colored Elks' Annual Ball.

The fourth annual ball of the Colored Brotherhood of Elks, I. B. P. D. E. of W. Starlight Temple No. 182, was held last evening in Danceland. The hall was decorated with patriotic colors. Two hundred couples attended.

At 11 o'clock the grand march took place, being led by Mr. and Mrs. James Joyce. Music was rendered by the Nine Musical Magpies of Cleveland, who are playing an engagement at the Ceramic theatre.

Surprise Pastor and Wife.

Tuesday evening, the choir and orchestra of the Nazarene Church, surprised Rev. and Mrs. O. L. Benedict, in their home in St. Clair avenue, in honor of the pastor's acceptance of a new call to the church. Vocal and instrumental selections were given, after which the honor guests were presented with a gift of table linen. The presentation was made by Thomas Durbin. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Russell Floyd, Mrs. Vernon Guinn and Mrs. Thomas Durbin, places being arranged for 59 guests.

Mrs. William Hester and Mrs. Hugh Fullerton of Empire have concluded a visit with local friends.

Japanese Political Candidates Hit by Broadcasting Edict

TOKYO—There will be no politics on the air in Japan. The department of Communications has ruled that politicians will not be allowed to broadcast their speeches from the Tokyo, Osaka and Nagoya radio stations.

With a general election an early prospect this is a severe blow to candidates who had counted on a carnival of political broadcasting.

Star Bargain—

porting cast including Wesley Barry, of freckled face fame. The last evening show will start at 9 o'clock with the vaudeville and followed by the feature photo play.

New Keith Show Opens Three-day Booking at Strand

The Keith vaudeville show, which opened a three-day engagement at the Strand theatre today, is headed by the Six Anderson Sisters who will offer some new ideas in melody and rhythm—songs, dances and instrumental music delightfully executed and rendered and made more delightful because of the charm of the girls.

A clever comedian will be found in Kinzo who does a little juggling as a side line. He is of the Will Rodgers type.

Elizabeth De Solti and Company, offer a splendid feature.

Stone and Leever present what they call "Turned Loose from the Bug-House." It is an eccentric comedy act.

Under a new policy, the Strand will open every afternoon with the matinee starting at 2:15 and the first evening show beginning promptly with a short news feature at 6:45, followed by the vaudeville at 7 and then the feature picture which in this case is Ramon Navarro in "The Midshipman," a delightful photo play, with a super.

INDIANA SWEPT BY GALE; HEAVY DAMAGE CAUSED

Cyclonic Disturbance Over 1,000-mile Area Reported.

WIRES ARE DOWN

Traffic Crippled, Awnings and Signs Blown Down.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 25.—Virtually all of Indiana was swept by a gale early today that followed torrential rains and caused considerable damage.

Officials of the U. S. weather bureau here said the gales resulted from a cyclonic disturbance over a 1,000-mile area with Grand Rapids, Mich., in the center.

Fifty miles an hour wind swept Indianapolis this morning, impeding traffic, blowing down awnings, signs, etc.

Batesville, Ind., near Cincinnati, also reported a 50-miles an hour wind.

Evansville reported a 56-mile an hour wind from the southwest.

Louisville, Ky., reported a 60-mile an hour wind, also from the southwest.

Vernon, Ind., reported a miniature tornado that unrooted houses, tore down chimneys and uprooted trees and poles.

Warsaw, Ind., reported a terrific gale that caused heavy damage.

Telephone and telegraph wires were rendered useless by the high strong winds and communication with many of the smaller places in Indiana was temporarily cut off.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Industrial stock leaders made another effort to pull the market out of its slough of despond in the early trading today. An early advance of 5 points in American Can, and strong "birthday" buying of United States Steel imparted a confident tone to other sections of the speculative list. The low-priced rails were still under the influence of the collapse in A. B. and A., the stock selling at $2 a share, against yesterday's high price of 83¢, and the former close at 4. Chicago and Alton stocks also continued their perpendicular decline.

Bears renewed their pressure against the industrials and specialties in the second hour, having the best success with Fleischmann, Atlantic Gulf and West Indies, Air Reduction, General Electric, etc.

"Banking support" which appeared to be present near the opening was suddenly withdrawn and stocks all over the board settled down to a lower range.

Atlantic Coast Line sold in good volume around 227 for a decline of 2½ points. Weakness persisted in Chicago and Alton. The common stock falling 2½ points to 6 and the preferred down 26 to 9½, the lowest prices of the year. Fear of a heavy assessment in reorganization was the motive behind today's session.

Call money unchanged at 5 per cent.

GODDARD BAKERY

Betsy Ross
There's a Difference in Bread

Andy Bair, Kenneth Martin, Leslie Smith, Johnny Joyce and Paul Orr, pleased with musical numbers on various instruments.

The entire cast appeared in a sketch entitled "The Alabama Jubilee," and one depicting a broadcasting station.

The performance will be repeated tonight with another large crowd assured.

IRWIN FUNERAL RITES TONIGHT

Funeral services for Wayne Riddle Irwin, 21 years old, will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Irwin, Phoenix Avenue. Rev. W. J. H. McKnight, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church, will be in charge. The body will be taken to Clintonville, Pa., tomorrow morning where services will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church. Burial will be made there.

The production, which was staged under the direction of William Stevenson and Austin A. Bolles, ran off without a hitch and was declared one of the best ever staged under similar auspices.

The minstrel first part took the house by storm and every member of the cast was seen to advantage. William McKinney, as interlocutor, Percy Willison, Lon Allison, Andy Blair, Kenneth Martin, L. L. Smith and Dever Dewell, as end men, with a number of new jokes and witty sayings, many of local interest, scored heavily. They were forced to respond to a number of encores in rendition of many of the latest song hits.

Vocal selections were given by L. W. Bird, Carroll G. Woods, E. V. Wehner, Lon Allison, L. L. Smith, J. C. Johnston, Andy Bair, Ray Hulse, R. A. Douglass and Dever Dewell. Thelma Swearingen, Mary Springer, Armita Merschord, Justine Simpson, Wilma Pugh and Martha Bartley appeared in ukulele selections.

Miss Catherine Bloor scored in a song number entitled "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," in which she was assisted by a quartet. Miss Maxine Bloor headed the "Baby Dolls' Frolic," assisted by Sara Mercer, Doris Poole, Elizabeth Davis, Mary Skinner, Eleanor Lowary, Eunice McDonald, Ethel Smith, Mary McKinley Brant, Mary Parker, Twyla Hissam, Kathryn Bloor and Elleta McMillen. L. L. Smith.

Office of officials are to be moved into West Virginia.

Engine pits, a tower and other facilities are now being built, and it was learned today that a contract has been awarded the T. J. Foley company, Pittsburgh, for the construction of a coal dock at a cost of $60,000.

LINCOLN WAY BIDS SOUGHT

Pennsylvania Seeks Figures on Two Sections.

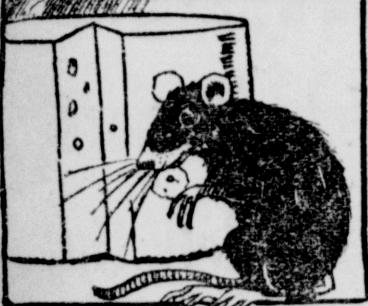

The Pennsylvania state highway department will open bids for the grading and paving of the Lincoln highway, west of Clinton, on March 23, according to word received here today. This section connects with the proposed improvement which starts at Laughlin's Corners and for which bids will be received on March 2.

The Clinton-Laughlin's Corners road will cost approximately $1,000,000. It will shorten the distance between Pittsburgh and East Liverpool to about 40 miles.

Work on the job will begin early in April. Contractors must agree to complete it before next winter. All materials for the two sections of the new highway will be hauled from the railroad head at Chester.

Proclaiming of New Messiah in India Stirs Religionists

BOMBAY.—The proclaiming at Adyar, India, of a new Messiah through the person of J. Krishnamurti, a young Hindu who has been trained as a prophet by Mrs. Annie Besant, the noted English theosophist, has aroused widespread discussion and some apprehension in Indian religious circles.

Thirty-three countries were represented at the Adyar ceremonies, which were held in connection with the coming of the Messiah, the United States sending thirty-six delegates, while representatives were also present from all European countries and from China, Iceland, Argentina, Australia and Uruguay.

The new religion which the Hindu Krishnamurti is to found is to be, according to theosophists here, a "Spiritual League of Nations, not replacing present religions, but binding all of them together."

An Important Message to the Good Citizenship of East Liverpool and Its Adjacent Communities

The selection of a memorial is of vastly greater importance than is generally recognized.

This salient fact exists because of the vast amount of materials now being employed in the building of memorials. A number of these are reliable, but the chief fact remains. A number of materials are not worthy of the name memorial. The only excuse for employing the latter material is its cheapness, but unfortunately it proves the most expensive, for remember the memorial you select should endure all time.

May we offer our services in aiding you to intelligently determine upon this very important problem?

We are located in your midst, our interests are mutual, we must depend upon you now and the future also, on the quality of our memorials depends our future. We are not here today and gone tomorrow, but can be found if anything further is in your judgment required of us, after completion of our work. We earnestly invite your most careful investigation of our reliability and as producers of quality memorials. We are in position to furnish anything in this connection from the most humble marker to the most elaborate monument or mausoleum.

We will be most pleased to design something entirely befitting your cemetery plot taking into consideration the contour of the ground and surroundings which materially affect the selection of design and have in our employ artists with ability equal to any of our knowledge.

We ask your earnest consideration of your local dealer. Write or phone Main 988 for any information or appointment.

TEACHERS MEET
IS SCHEDULED

County Institute Will be Held in Lisbon
March 13.

The annual one-day teachers' institute for this county is scheduled to convene in the auditorium of the David Anderson high school, West Lincoln way, Lisbon, Saturday, March 13. It was announced today by County Superintendent of Schools H. C. Leonard. Teachers from all city, village and rural schools in the county will

Freshen Up!

one or two "Cascarets"
any time to militarily stimulate your liver and start your bowels. Then you will feel fine,
your head becomes clear, stomach
sweet, tongue pink

Nothing else cleans, sweetens, and refreshes the entire system like pleasant, harmless candy-like "Cascarets." They never gripe, overact or sicken. Directions for men, women, children on each box—drugstores.

Blackheads Go Quick
By This Simple Method

This is a simple method that makes blackheads go as if by magic. Get two ounces of Calamine Powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub briskly over the affected parts, and in two minutes you will find every blackhead dissolved away entirely.

Toughest of Old
Hang-On Coughs Go

Why send a boy to do man's work? Sweet, sugary cough syrups may help a simple cough, but when you are traveling along towards the cemetery with a stubborn tight old cough that lingers on and on with the most persistent devilishness then you need a real cough medicine—and the realtest destroyer of tough old coughs is Bronchuline.

The cough may be so tantalizing that you can't sleep nights and your days may be filled with racking torture, yet that just the kind of a cough that Bronchuline likes to tackle and conquer.

Many times a few doses will stop the hacking and loosen things up and you can depend upon half a bottle to make a two months' cough quit cold and disappear.

Life is sweet—it will be much sweeter when you get rid of that old time cough.

Ask Carnahan's Drug Stores, Jesse D. Holloway or any wideawake druggist for a bottle of Bronchuline. There's no dope in it—or chloroform, and a couple of teaspoons will usually end any ordinary cough.

Hair Dry, Brittle

Waving, Curling

The constant curling and waving demanded by present styles in bobbed hair, slowly burns the color, lustre and very life from the hair, leaving it dry, faded, brittle, and full of dandruff; then the hair roots shrink and the hair falls out fast.

Since girls just must curl and wave the hair to appear their prettiest, try "Danderine" to offset any bad effects.

After the first application your hair will take on new life and that healthy, youthful lustre, become incomparably soft, wavy and appear twice as thick and abundant. Falling hair stops and dandruff disappears.

A 3-cent bottle of refreshing "Danderine" from any drug store or toilet counter will do wonders for any girl's hair. It goes right to the roots, invigorates, nourishes and strengthens them, helping their hair to grow thick, healthy and luxuriant.

TWO CHAMPIONS WILL MATCH SHOTS IN 'GOLF CLASSIC OF CENTURY'

WALTER HAGEN

Amateur King Carries Edge In Medal Play; Hagen's Calmness, Long Putts, Will Aid Him

By Norman E. Brown.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 25.—Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones, kings in their respective golfing spheres and rightfully rated as the two greatest golfers in the United States, if not in the world, are ready for their first duel for supremacy of the links.

Time and again have these stars competed in important tournaments where their individual scores gave some indication of their comparative ability, but this is the first time they have agreed to battle it out man to man.

And I'm glad that I'm going to be among those present when the first 36 holes of the 72 are played over the Whitfield Country club course at Sarasota, February 28, and the final 36 holes over the Pasadena Country club links at St. Petersburg, March 6.

Jones Has Edge in 'Opens.'

If their relative showings in six national open tournaments in which both participated are conceded to have any weight on gauging the outcome of the coming match, Jones has the edge.

They have played in the same fields in six of the opens.

Jones emerged from the last of these six a total of some 20 strokes ahead of Hagen. Jones has finished ahead of his rival in position in every one excepting the tourney at Columbia in 1921.

On the basis of results obtained in honors won in major tournaments there is little on which to give either man the edge. Hagen astounded the golfing world when he won the British open tourney—considered the real world's championship—two years in three. For the last two years he has held the U. S. pro title.

Jones has topped a wonderful record for consistent playing in the big national tournaments by holding the national amateur championship two years in succession.

In 1923 Jones had won the national open and had made a bid for the amateur that same summer. For years preceding these three Jones had played superb golf in the major tournaments only to find himself pitted against superhuman golf at the crucial moments. In one or two of the earlier meets his own temperament defeated him. But he has been ranked for several years as one of the greatest tournament players in the game.

Hagen, before his big years on the British Isles in 1922 and 1924, had won the U. S. open twice, the western twice and a host of other golf honors.

The matter of form must be weighed carefully. This despite the fact that in the event either off his form ratio means little.

Jones is without doubt a great medal player. Hagen is, however, better fitted temperamentally for match play. He is the most superbly confident human being I have ever met—not excluding Ping Bodie.

"Let Him See This."

They tell of Hagen the story that in one of his important tournaments, when he needed a long putt to the or defeat his opponent, he deliberately ordered his caddie to summon the jolly rival from the club-house. "Tell him I want him to see me make this shot," said the confident Walter.

He has a natural "Ritz" air about him that can be terribly disconcerting to an opponent. Dressed immaculately and groomed the same, he takes to the course with the easy grace of society's leading hostess. One feels as though

Hagen may well be expected to use correct form even to the extent of never stepping in front of his ball. Jones is more serious. He has taught himself to be serious. It took years of effort for him to curb his temper—to control himself. He is aware of that.

In actual play Jones has the advantage—judging by the performances—in the shots from the tee. He drives more accurately. Hagen has more confidence in bad lies, however. What the ordinary tourney player would call a real tough lie worries Hagen not at all.

On the green both men are deadly at their best, but Hagen is given a bit more to "off days" at putting. It may be that one or two putts may undo any damage Jones incurs in bad lies. On the other hand Hagen frequently sinks "marathon" putts in confusing style.

However, as I sense the spirit, the golfing world is not so much interested in the probable winner as it is in having the chance to see the greatest professional golfer of the day—if not in the history of American golf—in direct competition with the greatest amateur and the most interesting golfer this country has ever produced.

Compston is Victor In Florida Tourney

LAKELAND, Fla., Feb. 25.—Archie Compston, British professional golf champion, won the Lakeland and Open Ridge championship medal play tournament with 285 for 72 holes. Bill Mehrlin was runner up.

Hoff Sets New Mark And Turns an Ankle

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Charley Hoff, athletic sensation from Norway, has lifted the world's indoor pole vault record to 13 feet, 4½ inches at the expense of a turned ankle, which, however, is not likely to keep him out of competition.

Cleveland Manager Enroute to Lakeland

Frank Frisch Signs; Contract is Renewed

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Frank Frisch, Giants' second baseman, has signed a contract and it is whispered that his old contract has been renewed, nothing more. He will start for Sarasota, Fla., Saturday.

Signs Contract for 1926 at Conference With Mudhens' Manager This Week; Ordered to Report for Workouts on March 14 at Jackson, Tenn.; "Casey" Expects Team to Finish up in the Money.

HARRY "Hi" MYERS, ex-Brooklyn and St. Louis National Leaguer, today is a member of Case Stengel's Toledo American association club.

The former East Liverpool sandlotter, who plied to fame in the big time of the national game after being started along the upward trail by Alex Sweeney, former O. & P. catcher and manager, and whose name will rank along with the rest of the Ceramic City's all-time stars, such as Toadie Carey, Winnie Mercer, Curt Weish, Alf Shaw, Darrah brothers, Hennel Wolf, Ed. Hanlon and Bill Powell, today announced that he had definitely accepted terms with the Mudhens for the 1926 campaign.

He will report on Sunday, March 14, at the Toledo training camp at Jackson, Tenn., where he will work out with the veterans and rookies prior to the opening of the association season. Myers will perform at his old position in center field.

Myers signed following a several days' conference with Stengel at Toledo the first of the week. He also had received offers from Hank Gowdy, pilot of the Columbus club, and was in a position to dicker with a major league team or two for the season.

But, he announced today, Stengel's terms were good and they were accepted.

Stengel, according to Myers, is optimistic over prospects for the Toledo outfit. He appears to be well fortified in practically every department, although he admits that two or three from the Columbus club who is expected to bring up that end of the outfit.

Lebourveau, known at one time as one of the fastest men in the big leagues, also an ex-Athletic, is a recent addition to the Stengel crew, moving over from Minneapolis.

This is Stengel's first big try as a club pilot. He managed the Providence club of the New England league last year, but the job was more or less of a trial event and he moved westward to take charge of Toledo.

With the addition of Myers, Lebourveau, a catcher and possibly a pitcher or two he figures he'll have a club that will place well up in the money.

ACMES COP GAME AT ROCHESTER

The Acme club passers of this city defeated the Rochester Wizards, 30 to 13, last night on the Rochester court in a lopsided contest.

All the Acmes contributed to the scoring with Mackey collecting seven field goals.

Jeffries and Stewart starred for the Pennsylvanians.

Last night's victory is the second in the last two weeks for the locals over the Rochester combine.

WILLS WINNER IN CUP PLAY

Playing in Top Form She Defeats English Star.

By Frederick K. Abbott.

MONTE CARLO, Feb. 25.—Helen Wills advanced another round in the Duke of Connaught gold cup tournament today when she defeated Miss Lily Cadle of England, 6-0, 6-1.

Miss Wills played in top form, showing excellent effects from her day of rest yesterday. She scored 70 points to Miss Cadle's 24.

When Miss Wills played Miss Cadle on January 20, she defeated her 6-3.

HOPPE DEFEATED BY YOUNG JAKE

CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—Jake Schaefer, holder of the world's 18.2 balkline billiard crown, can enjoy the satisfaction today of knowing he is capable of holding another world's title.

In the concluding block of an 18.1 exhibition match played here last night, "Young Jake" stood victorious over Willie Hoppe, holder of the 18.1 premier laurels. From the start of the match several days ago, Jake was never in trouble. This, incidentally, is in spite of the fact it was his first appearance in an 18.1 contest, the final score for the match was Schaefer 1,500, Hoppe 1,115.

The 18.2 champion finished the match with a grand average of 20 for the six blocks, while the best Hoppe could muster was 22 15-50.

Grade School Floor Tourney Dates Set

Dates for the annual grade school basketball tournament for approximately 300 boys and girls, the city's future athletic stars, were announced today by Athletic Director O. V. Boone.

The double decker tourney will get under way on Thursday, March 4, when the girls' teams will begin play.

Contests are slated Thursday afternoon, Friday and Saturday afternoon.

There will be approximately 12 teams entered in each division, with plenty of talent sprinkled around the various schools.

Drawings for the girls' games will be held this week.

Finer Service Transportation at Lower Cost

More Buicks are now being sold than ever before in Buick history. And an important reason is the fact that, though expensively built, a Buick may be inexpensively purchased.

Buick could spend less money building its chassis, and still keep the quality up to the average in Buick's price class. The famous Buick Valve-in-Head engine is a more expensive type to build. Buick could use a steering gear less expensive than the 5-control-surface steering mechanism which adds so much to Buick's driving ease. The Torque-Tube Drive also adds expense to Buick manufacture, as do the "Sealed Chassis," the "Triple Sealed" engine, full pressure engine lubrication, the Buick multiple-disc, dry-plate clutch, and Buick mechanical 4-wheel brakes.

Buick closed bodies are built by Fisher to the most exacting standards laid down by any manufacturer today.

Quality, regardless of its cost, rules Buick design. But thanks to the sustained popularity of this quality, purchasers actually pay less for it. Vast volume gives Buick owners finer transportation at lower cost. Your next car should be a Better Buick!

RED PEPPER HEAT ENDS RHEUMATISM

Red Pepper Rub takes the "ouch" from sore, stiff, aching joints. It can't hurt you, and it certainly stops that old rheumatism torture at once. When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers. Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any good druggist for a jar of Rowses Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine with the name Rowses on each package.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headache, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "tired" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 15c and 30c.

Lived For Two Weeks On Half Bottle of Milk

The remarkable experience of Mrs. Alice Polly, 209 W. 5th street, Huntington, W. Va., is related in her own story below. Mrs. Polly feels that she has been wonderfully benefited with the popular herbal remedy, Ka-dolok and cheerfully volunteers her story in hope that it may help others similarly afflicted. "I had cramps in my legs," she explained to the Ka-dolok representative recently, "and the pain was something awful. I would have vomited spells and could not eat, could not even stand the fumes from the kitchen. I lived for two weeks on a half bottle of milk. Since taking the first dose of Ka-dolok I have never had a vomiting spell and it has done wonders for me in every way. I am getting stronger and as well pleased to say I am among the living. I never expected to die without Ka-dolok again."

The amazing results that Ka-dolok has effected and such stories as above have spread the fame of Ka-dolok far and wide. People in all walks of life have found relief from stomach, kidney and liver ailments and we are receiving daily hundreds of letters of praise to Ka-dolok. Ka-dolok is sold in East Liverpool at Mathews' Cut Rate Store and other drug stores.

How do you feel at 5 o'clock?

ANOTHER day's work done! Now, for a regular dinner—and a good time with the wife and kiddies! Guess we'll see a movie, go for a walk in the park or take a long ride. But my wife has a fine juicy steak and potatoes—good cold buttermilk and hot rolls—and pie. Oh, boy! makes my mouth water just to think of it!

Is that the way you feel at 5 P. M.? Or, are you just too played out for any good when your day's work is over?

If quitting time isn't really beginning time for you, then it's a sure sign that your entire system is starving for healthy, rich red blood. And this is just as sure a sign that you need S. S. S. You've simply got to build up your blood.

For 100 years S. S. S. has been proving that a run-down system, rheumatism, loss of weight, loss of appetite, sleeplessness and nervousness, just as skin eruptions—boils, pimples, pale complexion and a lowered vitality, are all the result of blood weak in red cells. Once let S. S. S. get to work and the joy of living will come back. 5 P. M. will have a different meaning to you. Get S. S. S. today. All druggists sell it. The larger size is more economical.

Tell him what to do... What He gestured his annoyance. "I'll talk to you about it later, Jones... Yes." Then, ironically, he looked at one of the framed wall mottoes he had inherited from his father. "Never let sentiment interfere with business."

Eve and Clay had been together that afternoon. They had been talking and had an hour before Clay casually mentioned: "Ingate gave me a new job today."

He started.

"Made me assistant manager of the shipping department."

"That's fine, Clay. I know you deserve it."

"Huh! Tried to hypocrite me, but I didn't let him get away with it."

Eve's eyes widened. "Why, Clay—"

"he cut short the words, as she was suddenly reminded: "He wants me to keep my old job."

Clay straightened up in his chair.

"I don't think you'll need to. He didn't say anything about a kick up in salary, but I suppose he will. That will be enough."

The face of his escort darkened. "We can use the money I would get."

There's such a distressing amount of things to buy when you're setting up a home."

"I don't thin k I want you to work..."

"Why not? I can attend to the house, all right. I won't shirk any home duties. Besides, I think I ought to help them out."

"Of course, HE wants you to keep on working."

Eve colored. "Clay!" he got up.

He caught her arm. "Oh, you know I didn't mean it that way."
